Entertaining during a golf event affords many opportunities and it's certainly not hard to get excited about doing it around the US Open in Pinehurst. Pinehurst has already hosted three US Opens (1999, 2005, 2014) and was recently chosen by the United States Golf Association (USGA) as the first anchor site of the US Open with the championship returning to Pinehurst in 2029, 2035, 2041, 2047. Pinehurst being an anchor site ensures that whoever you are entertaining will be regularly reminded of the memorable experience they were provided and enable a special talking point at cocktail parties for many years to come!

GOLF CLUB

Opened in 1996, Tom Fazio's South Course drew inspiration from Augusta National's rolling, parkland style layout. The South Course has an understated appeal, flowing gracefully across the land for an unforced, natural appearance.

Upon opening, the South Course was selected by Golf Digest as the third-best new residential course in the country. Pinehurst Magazine named it the second-best golf experience in the Pinehurst area based on votes of area head golf professionals – second only to the famed Pinehurst No. 2.

Nearly 10 years after the South Course opened at Forest Creek, Tom Fazio returned to complete the rugged North Course, which opened in 2005 and immediately ranked among the Top 100 residential courses in the country.

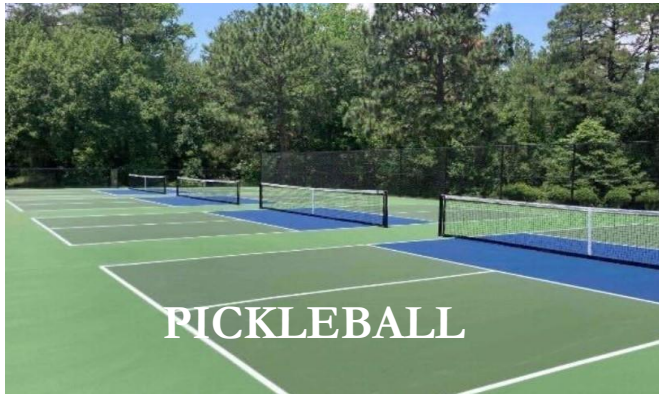

Featuring sprawling sandy waste areas along with rugged bunkers, Fazio gave the North Course a pine barrens feel, drawing comparisons to the famed Pine Valley in New Jersey. Perhaps the toughest and most picturesque challenge of the North Course is the penultimate string of holes (15, 16 and 17) wrapped around a large lake. Each hole offers a unique and invigorating experience.
